Security Council

Fifty-second Year

Provisional

3817th Meeting
Friday, 12 September 1997, 3 p.m.
New York

Corrigendum

1. Page 3, second column, last sentence

The sentence should read Examples include the blocking of any requests for the supply of goods produced in third countries and the arbitrary categorizing of clearly humanitarian goods as "dual use" or non-humanitarian items in spite of the fact that the goods in question are included in an annex to the distribution plan.

2. Page 4, first column, first complete paragraph, second sentence

The sentence should read The Russian delegation has always vigorously objected to such a practice, and today we call upon all our partners in the Security Council to strictly abide by the agreed procedures in order to finally lead the implementation of the humanitarian resolution into a stable channel.

97-86152 (E)